Christopher is Counsel in Wiggin and Dana's Litigation Department in the firm's Philadelphia office. Christopher's practice focuses on complex civil litigation and on criminal and other government investigations, regulatory compliance, and trial and appellate litigation.

Prior to joining the firm, Christopher served as an Assistant District Attorney in the Philadelphia DA's office where he investigated and prosecuted hundreds of felony cases ranging from attempted homicides to cyber crimes. Christopher was fortunate to have gained valuable and frequent trial experience in his prior role.

Christopher graduated from Drexel's Kline School of Law, magna cum laude, and was the Associate Editor of Drexel's Law Review. Upon graduation from law school, Christopher clerked for Judge Patricia A. McCullough of the Commonwealth Court and then for Chief Justice Thomas G. Saylor on the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
