Mark has spent twenty-five years helping business clients smoothly and profitably execute mergers, acquisitions, divestitures, joint ventures, minority investments, and other strategic transactions.

As Co-Chair of the firm's Mergers and Acquisitions Practice Group, he has extensive experience assisting both privately and publicly held businesses operating in numerous industries, from life sciences and outsourcing to manufacturing and financial services, as they advance their corporate strategies. Mark's clients include numerous Fortune 500 companies as well as private equity firms, family offices, and the portfolio companies of those investors.

Known for providing practical, actionable guidance, Mark has led hundreds of transactions, with an aggregate value of billions of dollars. These deals are generally "middle market" in size, involve privately held targets, and are often cross-border in nature. As a result of this international focus, Mark is also the firm's representative to the TerraLex global legal network.

Mark's experience also includes advising emerging-growth and other closely held businesses on general corporate matters, and public companies on securities law compliance and corporate governance.

Mark joined the firm in 2002 after beginning his career at Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison in New York City. Mark received his J.D. magna cum laude from Boston College Law School, where he served as an editor of the Boston College Law Review. He received his B.A. cum laude with distinction, in History from Yale University.

Mark has served on numerous boards, including the Yale Alumni Fund, Connecticut Food Bank, Connecticut Ballet, and Wilton Library Association.
