Wiggin and Dana Attorney Named First Vice-President of NYIPLA

Dale L. Carlson will be elevated to the position of first vice-president of the New York Intellectual Property Law Association ("NYIPLA") at an annual meeting of the Association taking place on May 21st at the University Club in Manhattan. His term will run until May 2009. With about 1500 members, the NYIPLA is the largest and most prestigious regional IP law association in the country.

Dale also serves on the board of the Gateway Community College Foundation, where he is chair of the nominating committee. He is also an adjunct professor of law at Quinnipiac University, where he teaches courses in patent law and advanced patent law.

Dale is a partner at Wiggin and Dana's New Haven office, and chair of the firm's patent practice group.

Wiggin and Dana serves clients from offices in Connecticut, Philadelphia and New York. The firm's expertise includes venture capital, information technology, biotechnology, securities, mergers and acquisitions, all forms of litigation and dispute resolution, antitrust, complex corporate and real estate transactions, health care, environmental, franchise and distribution, taxation, intellectual property, estate planning, and labor and employment.
